Manufacturer Provided Description

This Squadron is another example of Fairline's relentless pursuit of design excellence. Where a host of innovative touches are so elegantly applied, allowing you to enjoy pure luxury in an effortless and relaxed manner.

The expansive flybridge, for instance, creates a number of sociable scenarios; there's a large seating area around a dining table that can be lowered to convert into a sunpad, as well as forward-facing seating alongside the upper helm - an exhilarating place to be whilst under way.

The submersible bathing platform offers a delightful way to enjoy the water and can also accommodate a jet tender. Move through to the large welcoming saloon and you will find relaxed seating areas to both port and starboard and sociable considerations like the forward-facing companionway seating alongside the helm. The naturally illuminated galley is carefully considered and perfectly specified. Below, the three cabins reflect the Squadron's unmistakably high standards.

Description
